Nyala

For

Jann

and

Kim

Dear Jann and Tim

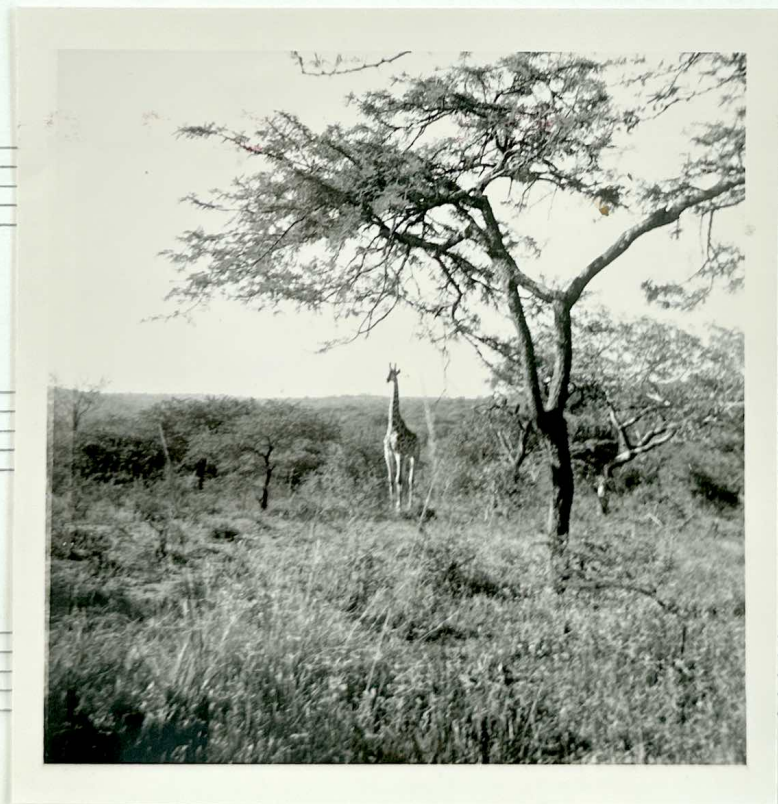

Here is another
letter for you.

Last week I had a holiday

We decided to go

to see the animals in the game reserves

A game reserve is like a zoo, but there are no cages

We took lots of
photos for you but
most of them were ~~not~~ not much good

We saw rhino

These two rhino

ran away when

I tried to take

a picture

Here are a family of

rhino under the trees.

How many can you see.

There are five.

We got out of the car

and crept up behind

the trees to get close.

Here is a rhino

bathing. We did not see this one.

We saw some

giraffes

eating leaves from the trees

and some

zebras

At night . we went to sleep in the car

It was not very

comfy so we woke

up early

Then we went to the water hole to see the animals

drink

Here is a herd of wildebeest.

Just after I took the picture
they got a

fright and they ran away

Here is one old wildebeest drinking by himself.

Can you see the

three little warthogs

drinking near him

Can you see
the warts on
this warthog's
face?

We saw

families of warthogs running in a row with their tails sticking straight up

In this picture there are two impala

some big birds

and a crocodile

who is so small you can hardly

see him.

Here are some more buck

These are called

Nyala

The next day we decided to go to the beach.

First we had to drive over
the mountains.

Here is me at the top

When we got near the beach the road was very sandy. The car got stuck three times.

So we had to go home.

When we got home we took a picture of

our cat.

He was sitting on the roof.

His name is Plotty

(I don't know why he is called Plotty)

All my love

from

daddy
